Astro-Thread A

Overview

ASTRO-THREAD A is a high performance cutting oil which has been formulated with high concentrations of lubricity and anti-weld agents, including sulfur and chlorine. In addition to extending tool life, ASTROTHREAD A improves the quality of machined surfaces. ASTRO-THREAD A can also be added to regular cutting oils to enhance their performance.

Applications

ASTRO-THREAD A is recommended for difficult threading operations involving stainless steel, high carbon steels and other ferrous metals.

Recommended Concentration

ASTRO-THREAD A is intended to be used as received. NOTE: Do not mix ASTRO-THREAD A with water. This product is 100% oil based. No mixing is required.
